

Major Insurance Firm Speeds Up the BI Supply Chain with Attunity Replicate

DATA ANALYTICS

For more than a century, this major insurance has been committed to helping their individual and corporate customers with an array of insurance, financial and banking products.

The Challenge

Even with the best toolsets, processes and people, the best analytics solution is useless without data from administrative systems that help you develop products, empower employees, and help you serve your customers. This is because analytics tools and processes aren't useful without data. Acquiring data from disparate systems from multiple vendors was very complex and very manual process for this major insurance firm.

“The higher we climb to empower analytics, the farther we can see. Using Attunity Replicate, we have the ability to add new sources rapidly to Teradata Analytic Platform.”

– Data Architect, Major Insurance Firm

The Solution

The team was looking at log-based data replication solutions to meet their data integration challenges. They chose Attunity Replicate because of:

- Its wide support of different sources and targets
- Its simplicity
- The proven technical industry integration
- The strong customer service available

Working Together—Today and Tomorrow

Attunity Replicate has helped this major insurance firm in multiple ways including:

- Elimination of 'Full Copy ETLs' for one large system saving time, resources, and overhead
- Saved 5 hours for one a weekly batch load process
- Performed delta loads for a system that we had not been able to do so via other means
- Rapid addition of new systems to the Teradata platform

As the firm looks forward to additional investments in analytics toolsets like Hadoop, they know that Attunity Replicate can help them move their data to that platform continuously. They know that they can speed up the business intelligence (BI) pipeline with a proven data replication solution which means that they can serve their customers with the high level of service and professionalism that they expect.
